FOR RELEASE WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23

A panel discussion on "Lawyers, Law Schools and Public Responsibility" at 10 a. m. Sept. 6 will launch a four-day program marking the dedication of the Montana State University Law School's new building, Dean Robert E. Sullivan announced.

Distinguished visitors serving as panelists are U. S. District Judge William J. Jameson, Billings; George N. Stevens, dean of the University of Washington School of Law; Samuel D. Thurman, professor of law, Stanford University, and president-elect of the Association of American Law Schools, and Capt. Edmund Burke Jr., legal officer, U. S. Navy Pacific Missile Range.

The main event of dedication day will be a program in the University Theater at 2 p. m., featuring an address by Associate Justice Tom C. Clark of the United States Supreme Court, the dean said.

John C. Satterfield of Yazoo City, Miss., president of the American Bar Association, will be the speaker at the dedication dinner at 7 p. m. at the Lodge.

A conference on Montana's revised rules of civil procedure, staffed by leading authorities in the field, will be in session from Sept. 7 until noon Sept. 9, Dean Sullivan said.
